When the case was called this morning Lawyer George Hill, Oake's representative, told Justice Gaynor that they made no defense; that Mrs. Oake's had been discharged from the Darien Home as same, and that she could go at will.

Justice Gaynor said that such statements were all very well, but he wanted to know by what right a person committed by an order of the Court had been removed from the State. He said he wanted to make an investigation and find out the true facts in the case.

He said he wanted all the orders, commitments and other papers submitted to him at once, and that he wanted all the parties to appear before him tomorrow morning.
